

THE ALARM

BY MADDIE ABLEY

CHAPTER 1

The pilot

Eyes as blue as the pacific ocean. Hair as gold as the smooth, grained sand. Lips pursed and nose ruffled. Standing tall in his flying gear Archie was ready for his first time flying in an actual RAF show at only 17 his parents were so proud. He held his breath as he stepped onto his very own plane. Once inside, he put his helmet on as he checked everything was working. “ALL ENGINES START” shouted Jonathan the head of the RAF. All you could hear was the rev of engines it has began.

Take off

Up, up, up and away off he went zooming to the sky his eyes full of joy he couldn't believe what was happening. This has been his life long dream since he was 5 years old and 12 years later its not a fantasy in his sleep no more. The mission has began his eyes like eagles searching for the captured pilot. Holding his finger on his ear he said " where's everyone heading any ideas or clues to were Florence could be " He felt confident like he was mad for this and he felt lucky everyone was so kind towards him.

" No clues so far Archie " Carly shouted back " The only thing we know is Jonathan put a tracker on her"

CHAPTER 3

The worry

“ Over here there a red flash in the snow “ said Harris who was on the opposite side to Archie. “That will be the tracking device I was told about it must have fallen off” shouted Carly. “Everyone go down there look for foot prints” said Jonathan replying from the station. As everyone turned Archie tried to join but it wouldn’t allow him he tried and tried till he could not try no more “CARLEY what’s happening I cant turn I’m stuck” said Archie “ which ship did you get” replied Carly. “The 4 x wing why?” said Archie very worried. “NO NO NO you can’t have “ said Carly “ hold on Archie we have a emergency at the 121 station over” shouted Carley.

The escape

He started falling and falling. His left wing crashed to the ground he had no choice. He saw the icy cold water beneath him. He just had to he jumped out of the window falling slowly with the snow sticking in his hair. He's feeling cold and sick wishing his dream would have been the way he wanted. Voices in his head telling him it was a mistake. His foot dipped in the icy water then his whole body. His breath stopped his eyes closed he sank deeper and deeper. is this the end.

CHAPTER 5

Carly in the distance

Everyone heard the crash of the plane.

With no idea what to do Carly remembered her training. As fast as she could she flew down like an asteroid and hit the snow. She cannonballed through her window and ran like Usain Bolt down to the water edge. She saw his body down in the deep. Carly reached into her backpack and got her scuba diving gear on and dived in. Archie felt his eyes open slowly and saw a girl swimming in the distance she got closer. She started forming into a girl looking like Carly it is Carly she pulled him out and gave him CPR his breath returned.

Happy after all

He felt the snow on his back. He was waking up slowly. All the blurs turned to actual figures. All people were sat around him Carly, Jonathan and the rest of the crew even Florence she's safe and so is Archie. "Time to head back," Carly said. Everyone got back in there ships and a ambulance helicopter came down for Florence and Archie. They climbed up the rope and inside were they were put in beds with wheels. Getting questions every few minutes he felt dizzy but safe his parents on the phone worrying like all parents. He's in safe arms thanks to Carly. THE END
