

‘Music is the universal language of mankind.’ Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

Intent

We use the Charanga Music School Scheme to ensure that our Music curriculum has been carefully planned and designed to encompass the content of the National Curriculum

- Pupils’ musical education begins in the early years and builds year on year, developing pupils’ expertise.
- Golden Threads, based on the three aims outlined in the Music National Curriculum have been identified for each Phase and Key Stage and underpin the key knowledge and concepts taught through our curriculum.
- In EYFS and KS1, the children follow the Charanga Music school scheme, which builds the foundations of pulse, rhythm, pitch and tempo through rhythm games, simple songs and playing untuned percussion instruments.
- In KS2, the children follow the Charanga Music School scheme, which builds on the solid foundations of KS1 and opens up opportunities for children to explore and understand dynamics, structure, texture, timbre and musical notation through increasingly challenging musical activities including warm-up games, improvising and composing, singing longer and more complex songs and playing tuned percussion and other instruments
- The organisation of the curriculum builds knowledge so that pupils can draw on it in future learning.
- Vocabulary has been identified and outlined clearly so that this can be taught explicitly within lessons.
- Curriculum plans allow pupils to learn about musical culture and history
- Clearly defined end points have been identified to ensure that pupils build upon prior learning and develop their knowledge of key concepts.
- In addition to the taught curriculum, pupils attend musical ‘events’ and are given opportunities, such as singing in performances.
- Our curriculum also provides all pupils (currently when they enter Year 4) the opportunity to learn to play a musical instrument as we buy into the NYCC County Music Service Wider Opportunities scheme.

Implementation

Within and beyond our classrooms we provide a range of opportunities and implement a range of teaching methods to ensure that over the course of study, teaching is designed to help learners to remember in the long term the content they have been taught and to integrate new knowledge into larger concepts.

- Music lessons are hands-on and interactive.
- Children discover their ‘singing voice’ gaining the confidence to sing as an individual and as part of a group.
- Performing also includes body action and movement and the playing of instruments. Children are taught to handle instruments correctly and with care.
- Each lesson follows a learning sequence which embeds the elements of music throughout: Listen & Appraise, Sing & Play and Share & Evaluate. Children start the lesson using their listening skills and appraise recorded music using a growing vocabulary relating to the key musical elements; they sing and play tuned instruments throughout the main part of the lesson, with opportunities to improvise and compose; and they culminate with a performance to share, evaluate and improve.

Impact

Through our music curriculum the impact is that:

- Children enjoy music in many ways: singing, listening to music and making music, and it makes them feel good.
- Children recognise a wide variety of music of different styles, cultures, periods and purposes.
- Children have an understanding of how to further develop skills less known to them, should they ever develop an interest in their lives.
